

2025 BFFL Playoff Pool Rules and Regulations

1. The pool entry fee is $10 per lineup. Enter as often as you like. The breakdown of prizes at the conclusion of the pool depends on number of entries.

For less than 40 entries:

- 1st place - 75%
- 2nd place - 25%

For 40 or more entries:

- 1st place - 70%
- 2nd place - 20%
- 3rd place - 10%

2. The following list shows the positions and number of players to be selected from the Player Pool. Obviously, you can only select players from the pool of NFL playoff teams.

Position	Quantity
Quarterbacks	1
Running Backs	2
Wide Receivers	2
Tight Ends	1
Kickers	1
Defenses/Special Teams	1

3. Lineups must be submitted to Bob Woolard (bobwool@gmail.com) by noon Saturday January 10th.

To make entering the lineups easier for me, please!!! submit each lineup in format:

Pos	Player	NFL
QB	Goff,Jared	DET
RB	Barkley,Saquon	PHI
RB	-----	----
WR	-----	----
WR	-----	----
TE	-----	----
K	-----	----
DEF/ST	-----	----

IMPORTANT: A maximum of two (2) players/Defenses from any one NFL team can be selected for a single roster. For example, you can have Patrick Mahomes and the Kansas City Defense, but not Travis Kelce as well. I cannot promise that I will catch your mistake before the first kickoff – make sure you double- and triple-check your entries! If your entry is invalid as of the first game’s kickoff it will be discarded.

4. Lineups are frozen as soon as they are submitted. Players accumulate points based on their performance and the Scoring Rules listed on the next page. Each player gets eliminated as his NFL team gets eliminated from the NFL playoffs. The two entries with the most accumulated points through the Super Bowl are the prize winners. Tiebreaker is Points in Super Bowl. No additional tiebreaker will be implemented if still tied. Player points will be determined by stats provided via the NFL.com website.
5. The Playoff Pool can be tracked via the website <http://www.bwoolard.com/PlayoffPool/index.htm>. This is a hand-designed website using Excel, so pardon the crudeness (it’s very 90’s). I usually get the website updated the morning following the game(s).
